I am fascinated by lines and negative space. With a few strokes I can create a face, a figure or an entire concept. Is it the lines that create the image or the space created by the lines?

I try to depict and elicit emotions through my art, both in drawing, painting and mixed media.